

Contents

Foreword	7
Author's Preface	9
Acknowledgements	13
An institutional note	15
Abbreviations and acronyms	17
Part A
Statistical preparations for Economic and Monetary Union	19
Chapter 1
Introduction and overview of Part A	19
Chapter 2
The task, and some preliminaries	25
The approach	31
Chapter 3
The preparatory phase	31
Chapter 4
The implementation phase	41
Money and banking statistics	47
Chapter 5
What is a bank?	47
Chapter 6
The architecture of money and banking statistics – the “layered approach”	57
Chapter 7
The MFI balance sheet – instruments, maturities, residence and sector of counterparties	63
Statistics on financial markets and non-monetary financial intermediaries ..	75
Chapter 8
Interest rates	75
Chapter 9
Securities issues and non-monetary financial intermediaries	81

Balance of payments and related statistics	85
Chapter 10
Purpose, general nature and frequency	85
Chapter 11
Concepts and definitions – financial account	89
Chapter 12
Concepts and definitions – current and (new) capital accounts	101
Chapter 13
The effective exchange rate of the euro	105
Other economic and financial statistics	109
Chapter 14
Financial accounts	109
Chapter 15
Consumer prices and general economic statistics	115
Other statistical issues	125
Chapter 16
Accounting issues	125
Chapter 17
Back data and seasonal adjustment	131
Legal preparations	137
Chapter 18
The legal framework	137
Chapter 19
ECB legal instruments at the start of Stage Three	145
The IT infrastructure	151
Chapter 20
Data exchange, storage and dissemination	151
The organisational framework	155
Chapter 21
Competence, cooperation and organisation	155
Chapter 22
Publication policy	163

Part B

Enhancements to euro area statistics, 1999-2003	169
Chapter 23
Introduction and overview of Part B	169
Replacing or reinforcing short-term approaches	177
Chapter 24
MFI interest rates	177
Chapter 25
Securities issues	187
Chapter 26
Non-monetary financial intermediaries	191
Chapter 27
International investment position	197
Towards a complete set of accounts	207
Chapter 28
Monetary Union Financial Accounts	207
Chapter 29
The balance of payments/international investment position and quarterly financial accounts	213
Chapter 30
Annual and quarterly accounts of general government	219
Chapter 31
Quarterly sectoral accounts	221
Other needs for improvement in the light of experience	223
Chapter 32
Extensions to MFI balance sheet statistics	223
Chapter 33
Valuation adjustments	237
Chapter 34
Non-resident holdings of monetary instruments	247
Chapter 35
A monetary presentation of the balance of payments	253
Chapter 36
General economic statistics	257

Statistics to meet new analytical requirements in the ECB	263
Chapter 37
Macro-prudential and structural banking indicators	263
Chapter 38
International role of the euro	269
Strengthening the infrastructure	273
Chapter 39
Balance of payments data collection	273
Chapter 40
Securities statistics and the Centralised Securities Database project	279
Chapter 41
Extension of the legal basis for ECB statistics	283
Chapter 42
Further development of statistical information systems	287
Chapter 43
Assessing the merits and costs of new or substantially changed statistical requirements	289
Chapter 44
Some aspects of quality	295
Chapter 45
Cooperation with the European Commission	299
Enlargement	303
Chapter 46
Non-participating Member States and ECB statistics	303
Looking ahead	307
Chapter 47
Further plans	307
Selected bibliography	313